School Report.

The School Board presents herewith its annual report, in accordance with a long established custom. Accompanying it are the reports of the Treasurer, the Book Agent, and the statistical table, all of which are respectfully submitted to the citizens of the district.

In reviewing the past school year (September, 1899—August, 1900), the School Board honestly believe it to have been a year of profit and advancement. We are equally honest when we say that one of the greatest obstacles which have prevented even a more satisfactory result is the irregularity of attendance, for which the parents are largely at fault. This past year the schools all show a great lack of punctuality and regularity in attendance. Can the parents expect their children to progress in their studies unless they constantly encourage and enforce the above virtues?

The registers show a large number of absences, and these, with the accompanying 268 cases of tardiness, must of necessity not only handicap the work of the teacher and School Board, but also hinder to a great extent the progress of the child. In fact only fifty-five different names appear upon the roll of perfect attendance for the year. We would urge the parents to visit the schools more, not to find fault, but to encourage those who are working for the good of the schools. Does not the home influence rest upon every parent? And they have the power to impress upon the child the importance of education, and the first three things to be observed are punctuality, regularity, and attention to the rules of the school and their studies. Among those who have visited the schools the names of only thirty-three parents appear. There is no better place to judge of a teacher's qualifications or a scholar's advancement than in the school-room; and when there is more frequent visiting on the part of the fathers and mothers of the children, then they will be better prepared to render righteous judgement, and by so doing give a new impetus to the work. Every child takes pleasure in showing his parents his capabilities and is encouraged by their presence in the school-room. Certainly the teachers and School Board cannot be expected to have an interest paramount to that of the parents.

This year we have purchased for three of the schools "The Students' Cyclopedia" and both teachers and pupils are pleased with them. We hope to be able to provide the Cyclopedia for all the schools in the near future.

The school property is in need of many repairs. In some instances a few hours work will add greatly to the comfort of the teacher and pupil, while in other instances more extended repairs are fast becoming necessary. In order to meet these demands money is required. It is hoped that a generous amount for permanent repairs will be appropriated.

It is an object of concern to every parent and guardian, in fact every being endowed with intellect or interested in any form in education to try and devise methods for the instruction of the humblest of humanity, and to make useful knowledge possible for all children to obtain. The opening of the new century offers another starting point in the effort to carry the teacher and pupil to still higher levels. The highest style of teaching is that which imparts character while it imparts knowledge. The teacher's position is one of responsibility; her duty is not only to teach the children, but to instill into their minds love for all that is good and abhorrence for all that is evil, and place them upon the right path to happiness, honor, and virtue, that they may become useful citizens and a credit to the community in which they live. The pupil who leaves school with knowledge and a purpose is a thousand times more likely to make a success of life than one who has only gained the knowledge. We think that our town is to be congratulated in having so many good teachers who have their homes in our midst. Let all concerned bear this in mind: that the public school is New England's safeguard and future hope.
